Dear Tudor

Thank you so much for contacting Mia and Freya about our event last night. They are delightful girls, their music is wonderful, they played beautifully, and were very tolerant of the small children running about and dancing. They are a credit to you and Broughton High School, and I made sure that the school got a mention. It was fascinating to hear about their trip to Norway too. What an amazing experience for them.

The reason why I contacted you at such short notice was that I had only just found out that the planned ceilidh was using recorded music. I thought it would be such a shame to hold the event without any live music. Therefore, I was so delighted when you were able to help us find willing musicians, and how fortuitous that you have a pupil who attended Stockbridge school and who was also available.

Although my son is leaving Stockbridge this year to come to Broughton, would it still be alright to contact you if and when they need musicians (with a lot more notice!), in case there are pupils who are happy to come. It is very inspirational for the primary school children, and reinforces the links between the two schools.

Many thanks again

Aletta
