

Edinburgh Maths Circle

An opportunity for children aged 5 to 16 and their families to join us for an afternoon of fun and stimulating hands-on mathematics.

Saturday 15th September 2018

from 1pm to 4pm

at the James Clerk Maxwell Building

What is it?

The Edinburgh Maths Circle is a free drop-in session where children aged 5 to 16 and their families can join in with exciting mathematical activities, games and puzzles. Students and members of staff from the School of Mathematics will be on hand to help out, and tea, coffee and juice will be provided.

To get an idea of the kind of activities you'll be able to have a go at, take a look at some of the following, courtesy of NRICH.

- Help the little monkey look after his peaches in Peaches Today, Peaches Tomorrow.
- Race against time in the Stop the Clock game.
- Solve the famous Tower of Hanoi puzzle.

How do I get there?

The Edinburgh Maths Circle takes place in the James Clerk Maxwell Building at the University of Edinburgh's King's Buildings campus. Signs will direct you from the entrance to Room 3217, and helpers will be on hand too. Information about travelling to the James Clerk Maxwell Building can be found here; please note additionally that parking within the King's Buildings campus is unrestricted at weekends.

The Edinburgh Maths Circle was inspired by the Cambridge Maths Circle, and many of the activities we use are kindly provided by NRICH. We would like to thank both NRICH and the organisers of the Cambridge Maths Circle for their support in making the Edinburgh Maths Circle a reality.

The Edinburgh Maths Circle is kindly sponsored by Rathbones Investment Management and the Glasgow Mathematical Journal Trust. Thanks to their contribution, we have an improved collection of resources, a new and improved poster, and better quality refreshments.
