

Hannah Farquharson in 1N3 has won the Edinburgh Safer Internet competition 2015. She wrote a poem which came first in the most creative category. She won an iPad for the department and also wins her own prize.

Internet Safety Poem

The Internet is an amazing place,
Incredible things filling all that space,
But hidden away where eyes can't see,
Are the kinds of people you don't want to meet.

If you find an email from someone you don't know,
Don't open it or let it take you somewhere you don't want to go,
Be kind, don't say what first comes to mind,
You don't want to say what your friends won't like.

Be careful with what you share,
You might just step into a lair,
Keep your passwords safe and secure,
Try again if the screen flashes 'poor'!

Make sure you tell someone if you're sad,
Keeping quiet just makes things bad,
If you don't like something that you hear,
Find an adult you know who's near.

Your friend is probably who they say they are,
But just be safe and don't tell them who you are.
Stay safe on the Internet on Internet Safety Day 2015.
